Certain characteristics of the population of any given area must be known in order to provide the area with the services and products to fit the needs of the populace. The most basic of these characterisitcs, and the ones most often requested, are the age, race and sex of the population.

This publication will be a useful reference of the 1970 and 1980 census population of each county broken down by age group, race and sex. One pyramid shows the race by age and is shaded to indicate the increase or decrease from the 1970 census to the 1980 census. The other graph shows the sex by age groups with the same shading of the differences between the 1970 and 1980 census figures.

Population for the state of Alabama is not given in this publication. A previous published report "Alabama's Population, 1930-1980" gives the state population in detail.
